IFCPF Ranking Points Procedure

Updated October 2016

Introduction

The logic of the IFCPF Ranking Points Procedure is that any country that participates in CP football wins points which enable it to climb the World and Regional Rankings Lists.

The Rankings Lists are maintained for the following reasons:

- Realistic comparison of teams
- To support seeding for tournament draws
- Highlight worldwide, regional and national participation
- Promotion of CP Football

P: Ranking Points

A team's total number of points, from tournaments held within the current quadrennial (four years), are determined by adding the highest number of points gained from an eligible tournament/level of development in each year.

Example: If a country holds National Championships, but in the same year compete in the IFCPF World Championships, only the points gained in the IFCPF World Championships would be used in that year because they would be greater than those gained from holding National Championships.

Calculation of points for a single tournament/level of development:

Points (P) = Tournament Importance (I) + (Tournament Ranking (R) x Tournament Factor (F))

For National and Development level, only the baseline points are used.

I: Tournament Importance

The importance of tournaments is based on the level of teams they include.

Level	Tournaments	Baseline
World	Paralympic Games IFCPF World Cup IFCPF World Championships	15.00
Regional	IFCPF African Championships IFCPF Americas Championships IFCPF Asia-Oceania Championships IFCPF European Championships	10.00
Other	All other international tournaments with national teams participating	5.00
National	National Championships	2.00
Development	CP Football Development Programmes	1.00

R: Tournament Ranking

All teams finishing in first position will receive 16.00 points, with second will receive 15.00 and so forth. In the unlikely case that more than 16 teams participate in a tournament, the IFCPF Board will decide how to distribute 'R: Tournament Ranking' points prior to the tournament taking place.

F: Tournament Factor

When calculating tournaments from different regions, the strength of the region is taken into account. The strength of a region is calculated on the basis of the levels of participation, development and international participation of countries in that region.

International participation in 'other' tournaments, which are not IFCPF World or Regional Championships, is also recognised in the Rankings Lists. This is because new and developing countries would not even make it into the Rankings Lists as they may not qualify for the top events.

Their values are as follows:

Level	Tournaments	Factor
World	Paralympic Games IFCPF World Cup IFCPF World Championships	1.00
Regional	IFCPF European Championships IFCPF Americas Championships IFCPF Asia-Oceania Championships IFCPF African Championships	1.00 0.95 0.88 0.79
Other	All other international competitions with national teams participating	0.25
National	National Championships	-
Development	CP Football Development Programmes	-
